Barbara Holloway has been Vice President of Resource Economics, Inc. in Austin, Texas since 2007. Barbara performs management and administrative duties at the firm. She offers consultancy in healthcare ethics and in the preservation and conservation of wild life and the environment through photography.

Barbara has been a leader in Healthcare for 35 years. Her expertise includes Nursing, Biomedical Ethics and Spirituality. Barbara has years of experience formulating and implementing Biomedical Ethics Policy, teaching and leading ethics groups and leading patient care conferences dealing with medical-ethical dilemmas.

Barbara has Co-Chaired the Biomedical Ethics Committee at Seton Medical Center Central and been a member of the Seton Board of Trustee Biomedical Ethics Committee for several years. She currently serves on both Committees. She also is a member of the Hospice Austin Ethics Committee.

Barbara began her professional career as a Registered Nurse. She attended Methodist Hospital School of Nursing and Texas Tech University in Lubbock, Texas. She has worked in Lubbock, Texas, Corvallis, Oregon and Austin, Texas. Barbara's expertise is in Critical Care Nursing and Management in Medical/Surgical Nursing. While in nursing, Barbara became interested in combining nursing and spirituality. She attended St. Edward's University and received a B.A. with emphasis in Philosophy and Religion. She graduated with Distinction and was in the Alpha Chi Honor Society. She also attended Austin Presbyterian Seminary and The Episcopal Theological Seminary of the Southwest. Barbara did a year of Residency in Clinical Pastoral Education. She became a Board Certified Chaplain in the Association of Professional Chaplains with M.A. Theological Equivalency. Barbara is an Ordained Minister in association with the Alliance of Baptist as the endorsing agency.

Barbara was employed by Seton Family of Hospitals for 25 years where she was able to combine her Nursing and Chaplain expertise. She was a Critical Care Chaplain and then became Manager of the Chaplain Services Department for a system of 9 hospitals. Barbara has been a formative member of major decision-making committees within Seton including: Biomedical Ethics, Heart Transplant Board, Clinical Research and Palliative Care.

Barbara has been a strong advocate for Clinical Pastoral Education throughout her career. She served on Advisory Committees at Austin State Hospital for 10 years and The Episcopal Theological Seminary of the Southwest for 10 years. During this time, she was Associate Faculty and Seton liaison as Clinical Supervisor for seminary students doing CPE Internships. Barbara helped to innate the CPE Program at Seton. As Manager of the Chaplain's Department, she provided Clinical Faculty for the CPE Program. She currently serves on the Advisory Committee.

Barbara helped to initiate the Palliative Care Program at Seton. She participated in the Pilot Project for Palliative Care at the Institute of Healthcare Improvement in Washington, D.C. and presented Seton's results at IHI's First International Palliative Care Symposium.

Barbara has had a very successful and rewarding career with the Seton Family of Hospitals. Her last major work was helping to develop and integrate the Seton Electronic Medical Record System. Barbara helped to open Dell Children's Hospital of Austin and made preparation for the opening of Seton Williamson before retiring from the Seton Family of Hospitals in 2007. Barbara remains in close ties with Seton through her service on the CPE Advisory Committee and the Seton Board of Trustee Ethics Committee and the Seton Medical Center Central Ethics Committee.

Barbara is currently developing an expansive portfolio of nature and wildlife photography and is a member of Travis Audubon Society and The National Wildlife Federation. She has obtained certification for Best of Texas Backyard Habitat.
